INNOVATION AWARD

Innovative Research
in Health Sciences

JANUARY 12th TO MARCH 07th 2022

1. AWARD PRESENTATION

1.1. Bluepharma Indústria Farmacêutica, S.A. rewards every two years an innovative research project in Health Sciences according to the terms and conditions foreseen in the present application guidelines.

2. CANDIDATES

2.1. Application is open to Portuguese Researchers from National or Foreign laboratories, institutes and organizations developing innovative research projects in Health Sciences. Research projects may engage groups from more than one institution. If the application is submitted by a group, a representative or lead investigator should be nominated and act on behalf of the group in the following situations:

- Representing the group before Bluepharma and the jury committee providing any requested information;
- Receiving the award.

2.2. Each candidate or group of candidates may submit several applications but each one must refer to a different research project.

3. PROJECT REQUIREMENTS

3.1. The research work must have been partially or totally conducted by Portuguese Researchers in National or Foreign institutions.

3.2. The project must have been performed by the candidate(s) and cannot violate third parties' intellectual property rights. The candidates are solely responsible for collecting all respective authorizations if applicable.

3.3. The submitted project must have an original and innovative feature. IP protected or IP protectable projects are both very much welcome.

3.4. The submission of projects to the present award must have been authorized by the institute(s) / organization(s) where the work was performed.

6. EVALUATION OF APPLICATIONS

6.1. The selection of the award winner will be based on the evaluation of the scientific merit of the proposed project (originality, relevance for the scientific area where the project is inserted, work execution through collaborations with national institutions, public interest in promoting the project, patentability) and on the competence of the proposed candidate(s). A short presentation of the project by the applicants might be required by the Jury.

6.2. The president of the jury has the responsibility of evaluating if the submitted projects comply with the eligibility criteria during the 30 days after the application deadline. The candidates responsible for the applications that are considered not eligible will be formally notified of that decision.

6.3. The jury decision must be taken by the majority of the members. In case of a deadlock, the jury president has the deciding vote.

6.4. The president of the jury must communicate the jury's decision to the award winner no later than 90 days after the application deadline.

7. AWARD

7.1. The name of the award winner project will be published on Bluepharma's and the University of Coimbra's website no later than May 2022. The jury's decision is not subject to any kind of appeal.

7.2. The Bluepharma | University of Coimbra Award consists of a money prize up to € 20.000 to fund a proof of concept project, and a diploma.

Following the proof of concept, if the promoters are interested in the creation of a spin-off company based on the project, Bluepharma may invest up to € 30.000, depending on the project's merit and market viability. This is assessed by Bluepharma.

7.3. The winner candidate(s) will be able to present the awarded project in the official public ceremony of the award attribution at a date to be announced. The organization of this event will be under the responsibility of Bluepharma Indústria Farmacêutica, S.A. and of the University of Coimbra.
